TOTAL NEARS A HUNDRED TODAY

Twenty-Two Members Are Added to Chamber of Commerce and Many Districts Are Uncanvassed.

A NEED FOR MORE WORKERS

Work Goes Over Until Monday When Effort Will be Made to Close Canvassing by Wednesday.

Twenty-two new members have been added to the Chamber of Commerce since the workers reported yesterday and the work was going forward today with as much enthusiasm as ever. The spirit at the noon luncheon was just as good and three teams of men started out at the conclusion of the meal. Another team was to work later in the afternoon.

Tomorrow no canvassing will be done since Saturday is generally a very busy day, but Monday renewed energy will be applied in order to reach all of the people who intend to join the Chamber.

The first list of new members, which will include those up to Monday afternoon, will be published Monday evening. The total is up to ninety-seven today and it felt that the total will go above the two hundred mark by the middle of next week.

The chief trouble has been in obtaining men who will give a short period of time each day to canvassing. Every person, before they become a member, wants a careful explanation of the prospects and aims of the proposed organization. This requires the time of the canvassers and the result is that they can cover much territory in an hour, which is about as much time as any man gives to the work.

This accounts for the fact that only about half of the prospective members have been seen by canvassers. Those who have been attempting to get new members have met with very little opposition.

Wherever there has been any position to look at the project unfavorably, it is always found that those who take this view have never made a single inquiry but rather have depended on some irresponsible reports for information.

The aims and intentions of the Chamber of Commerce have been outlined both in the public meetings which have been held and in the newspapers. The executive committee, the meeting of which nine representative men of Rushville attended and made up the committee, decided to ask Mr. Charles to put on the campaign after they held a closed session to themselves and talked over the matter thoroughly.

Persons who have not been seen by canvassers and are contemplating the proposition need only to inquire to learn what has been accomplished by organization in other cities even in this part of Indiana.

Rushville people have seen what has been accomplished by short-lived organizations in Rushville, even though they have never been as composite or never had as altruistic aims as has the present project.

CASE TOMORROW.

The case of the state against Cleve Plummer, charged with refusing to assist an officer, will be heard tomorrow morning at nine o'clock by Gates Sexton, who was appointed special judge by Mayor Beabout.

MRS. NANCY MILLER DEAD

Mrs. Nancy Miller, 69 years old, widow of the late Stewart Miller, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rolla Clingman, south of Homer, last night shortly before nine o'clock. Mrs. Miller had been in ill health for the past five months but had not been in a serious condition until the past week, when pneumonia developed, causing her death. Mrs. Miller was a well known resident of Walker township. Mrs. Clingman is the only child. A son, George Miller died last September. The funeral services will be held Saturday morning at ten o'clock in the Christian Union church in Homer. Burial will take place in the Hurst cemetery.

FIND $62 WORTH OF SILK STOLEN

Employees of E. R. Casady Dry Goods Store Make This Discovery When They Open Box.

RAILROAD MAN HERE TODAY

When a box of valuable silks was opened at the E. R. Casady dry goods stores late yesterday afternoon, it was found that bundles of silk valued at sixty-two dollars had been stolen some time while the box was enroute here from St. Louis. The theft was not discovered until the box was opened because the robbers had been clever enough to open the box and nail it back on again without arousing the suspicion of anyone who might handle the box.

The railroad was notified at once and a representative of the road arrived here this afternoon to get details and run down the culprits. Tracers have been sent along the route which the box came and an effort will be made to learn just where the theft was committed.

WATCH ALL THAT WAS TAKEN

James A. Meek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Meek of Glenwood, employed at the stock yards in Indianapolis, is recovering from a blow on the head received at the hands of some unknown person with robbery as a motive. He was found near the stock yards Wednesday night and taken to the city hospital. His parents did not hear of the accident until yesterday. Perry Meek, the father had shipped two car loads of hogs to the market in care of his son when they were not taken care of, he was notified and went to Indianapolis where it developed that he was son was in the hospital as a result of his injuries. The injured man sustained a severe blow on the head and for a time it was thought that the skull was fractured but he is now able to be up and has resumed his work.

The case of the state against Cleve Plummer, charged with refusing to assist an officer, will be heard tomorrow morning at nine o'clock by Gates Sexton, who was appointed special judge by Mayor Beabout.

CAMPAIGN DATE WAS CHANGED

At Meeting of Laymen and Ministers Last Night Local Missionary Conference Organized.

WILL BE HELD FEB. 24 AND 25

Purpose is to Bring Churches a Vision of the Present Conditions of the World Problem.

A united missionary campaign conference was organized last night at a meeting of the Rushville Ministerial association and five laymen from each church with the Rev. Bruce L. Kershner, a missionary from Manilla, P. I. The meeting was held at the St. Paul M. E. church at the close of the prayer meeting.

James E. Watson was selected as the chairman of the general committee. The date was originally announced as February 3 and 4, but was changed last night to February 24 and 25. Committees were named last night.

About twenty conferences such as are contemplated here are being held in the state of Indiana. The movement is inter-denominational and nation wide. It is backed by all the missionary boards of all evangelical churches, and is planned by the Laymen's missionary movement. The conference will be conducted by a team of four men, specialists in their line.

The conference will last during two evenings and a day. February 3d and 4th were the dates given Rushville by the state committee. As the local organization for the conference was not effected until last night, the men requested the committee to change the dates to February 24th and 25th.

The money is to be raised during the conference. Its purpose is to bring to the churches a vision of the present condition of the world problem, from the missionary standpoint, and give to the churches the latest, most approved, up-to-date methods of carrying forward their missionary enterprise.

The salaries of the men composing the team are provided by their church boards. The travelling expenses, entertainment, and other expenses are to be furnished by the city where the conference is held. The churches of the county are to be enlisted in the conference.

With James E. Watson as chairman, the general committee is as follows: Geo. C. Wyatt, vice chairman; A. W. Jamieson, secretary and W. E. Wallace, treasurer.

Chairmen of the other committees were selected as follows: Arrangements, S. L. Trabue; Publicity, John A. Titworth; Finance, T. M. Green; Statistics, Carl Webb; Education, J. H. Scholl; Extension work, C. M. Yocom.

"TESSIE" RYAN STORY SUBJECT

Daughter of Rev. Daniel Ryan of Arlington Grows Famous as Actor in New York City.

FEATURE CONCERNS HER

Writer in N. Y., Telegram Tells of Her Work as Mrs. Garland in "Today" Current Attraction.

Mrs. Maxwell Conover, daughter of the Rev. Daniel Ryan, pastor of the Arlington Methodist church, and well known all over Rush county, has made a name for herself in New York in the part of Mrs. Garland in "Today."

The New York Morning Telegraph devotes a half page story, with art, to Mrs. Conover, who is best known here as Teresa Ryan—or for short, "Tessie."

The feature story in the Telegraph starts with a picture of the "wonderful Teresa Maxwell Conover hand," and the writer declares these hands to be the most expressive on the stage today. Various sculptors have casts of these hands, the story says, and use them in their master pieces. Hands as dramatic as those of Bernhardt, is the way the reporter has spoken of them.

After Mrs. Conover married John Thompson Conover, 3d, a Wall street broker, she retired from the stage. But managers wanted her for this or that and she reappeared at the New Theater in "Nobody's Daughter," under the management of Winthrop Ames. Then came an engagement with Gertrude Elliott. Her next appearance was with the Belasco forces in "The Governor's Lady," and now she is playing the part of Mrs. Garland in "Today."

And in speaking of her work in "Today," the writer in the Telegraph says:

"Those who have not seen Mrs. Conover's delightful portrayal of Mrs. Garland in 'Today' have a treat in store. Her performances are finished, well poised and deft."

"This woman with her wonderful hands, her patrician face, her exquisite gowns and her perfect diction is a joy. Teresa Maxwell Conover is an artist to her finger tips. She is often the central figure in a cast that is nearly perfect, and yet even in such a cast, she dominates many scenes for it is impossible to get away from her delightful personality which she stands, even for a moment, before you."

WIFE TESTIFIES FOR HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Walter Runyan on Witness Stand in Defense of Walter Runyan.

ROXIE HART TO TAKE STAND

(By United Press.)

Crawfordsville, Ind., Jan. 30.—On her twenty-eighth birthday today, Mrs. Walter Runyan was on the witness stand in defense of her young husband charged with first degree murder for the killing of Arlie M. Stull. She blackened the dead man's name as a false friend, who was insane over an illegitimate love for her and tried to separate her and her husband. While Mrs. Runyan testified she looked tenderly at her husband who the state has accused of being intimate with her cousin, Miss Roxie Hart of Illinois.

Miss Hart arrived here today to make the same allegation and to defend her name. That Stull threatened to kill Runyan and that Runyan and the witness became so worried over Stull's queer behavior that they took refuge overnight with William Runyan, brother of the defendant, was Mrs. Runyan's testimony today. She said she refused to return to her own home where she would be near Stull unless Runyan borrowed a revolver of his brother. With this weapon Runyan killed Stull in self defense, he asserted.

49 PERSONS ARE BELIEVED LOST

Dominion Liner Monroe Collides With Steamer Nantucket Off Virginia Cape Today.

A DENSE FOG IS THE CAUSE

Eighty-Six Survive Disaster and Others May be in Life Boats, Shut Off by Mist.

(By United Press.)

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—Forty-seven persons are believed to have been drowned when the old Dominion liner, Monroe, sank twenty minutes after colliding head on with the Merchants and Miners steamer, Nantucket, off the Virginia cape at one forty o'clock this morning.

The Nantucket is slowly coming toward this port entwined on her are eighty-six survivors from the Monroe. It is hoped that some of the missing persons are in Monroe life boats, but were lost from sight in the impenetrable fog.

The Monroe carried fifty-four passengers and a crew of seventy-nine. Of the crew twenty-four are missing. The Nantucket carried only two passengers and not a person on her was injured in the crash.

The passengers and most of the crew were asleep when the crash came and the confusion must have been indescribable. Details are very meagre. Many of those saved were picked out of the sea.

The Nantucket ordered her boats manned, and after a hasty examination showed that she would float, the life boats were ordered out and went to the rescue of Monroe's passengers. It is believed that those who lost their lives were trapped in their beds. Captain Johnson of the Monroe was saved.

As soon as the wireless sparked its way through the dense fog, half a dozen rushed to the scene but were too late. Some of the rescue fleet took the Nantucket in escort and others waited for the dawn of day to search for the missing.

WAS POSTPONED.

The trial of M. J. Ogdon, charged with assault and battery on Jesse Smith, was postponed until Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. The case was to have been heard this afternoon by Squire Kratzer, but owing to the inability of witnesses to appear it was postponed.

Arrangements were completed last evening between the Sunday school of the Christian church of Shelbyville and the Sunday school of the Christian church of Greensburg for a contest, the purpose of which is to see which Sunday school can have the largest attendance and the largest collection for a month.

OBJECT TO STAMP OUT HOG CHOLERA

U. S. Department of Agriculture
Hopes to Eliminate Plague by Organizing The Farmers.

AND EDUCATING THEM, TOO

Campaign Conducted in Indiana
Brings Good Results—Value
of Serum.

(Special to the Daily Republican.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—The Department of Agriculture, during the past year, has been conducting campaigns in Indiana, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska to control the contagious disease of hogs known as "hog cholera" by means of anti-hog-cholera serum and farm quarantines. In one county (Pettis county Missouri) where there was a loss of 18 per cent in 1911 and 25.6 per cent. in 1912 of all hogs raised, there was only a loss of 14.7 per cent. up to November 1913.

This decrease was due to the use of the serum, which although not used thereby the Department's agent until August, 1913, materially reduced the loss. About 60,000 hogs were raised during the past year and of the 10,000 that died of the hog cholera only about 1,000 were lost after the active use of serum and quarantine measures were inaugurated.

In every county where these measures were employed, even though begun after the disease had continued its ravages for some time, there was less loss from hog cholera than in either of the two preceding years.

In addition to its great function as a preventive, it has been found that the anti-hog-cholera serum would cure a large proportion of hogs in the early stages of the disease and render them immune after recovery. However, if hogs are not treated by this serum, from 75 to 100 per cent. of all affected herds, die. This serum, so far as is known, is the only thing that will prevent the disease.

The object of the Department has been to endeavor to control the disease and if possible, to eliminate it from the country. To secure this end the best efforts of the farmers themselves are necessary. The campaign against this devastating sickness during 1913 was planned in the territory selected along three lines.

1. The education and organization of the farmers in the districts selected, to be carried out primarily by the State College.

2. The enforcement of sanitation and restrictive regulations by the State veterinarian.

3. Active supervision by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department and the inoculation of diseased herds and exposed herds with the anti-hog-cholera serum.

Hog cholera is a disease which seems to be stopped to a degree by the frosts of winter, although frost cannot be said to stop a case after it has taken hold of its victim. However, it seems to prevent the rapid spread of the disease. The result is that in a spring time the affection is as a rule at the lowest ebb but increases rapidly from that time until fall.

Hog cholera does not seem to affect any particular breed of hogs more than another, and while generally the careless farmer is more apt to have the disease among his hogs than the careful one, the disease sometimes occurs where the conditions are sanitary. It is hoped that the work may be extended gradually until the disease is completely controlled or eliminated. The fact that hog cholera is carried not only by the hogs themselves, but by birds, dogs, streams and even on the feet of men going from one farm to another shows how necessary it is that the campaign be thorough and that farmers exert their best efforts to assist in the work.

Fatal Leap From Train.

Columbus, Ind., Jan. 30.—George Quillen, eighteen years old, son of Solomon Quillen of this city, was fatally injured when he fell while leaving the "blind baggage" of a passenger train before the train reached the station to avoid arrest for beating his way. He was thrown on his head and his skull was fractured.

Child Crushed to Death by Log. Seymour, Ind., Jan. 30.—The five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dodds of Owen township, was crushed to death by a heavy log that rolled on the child, who was playing near it. His mother was the first to reach the child, and she lifted the log and removed the body. The boy died almost instantly.

Amusements

The Portola will show the usual three pictures tonight. The first is a Vitagraph comedy "Why I am Here." Sidney Drew, Ralph Ince and E. K. Lincoln are featured in this one. The second is a Selig drama entitled "The Touch of a Child." The last is a Lubin comedy "The Two Fathers." Peggy O'Neil is shown in this one. The first show starts at seven o'clock.

The Gem will show a Victor drama "The Plaything" for the first picture tonight. James Kirkwood is featured. The second is a comedy entitled "The Enchanted Umbrella." The last is a Milo drama "Granny." Tomorrow night a two part Eclair drama "Pardners" will be shown.

The Princess will show a Biograph feature "By Man's Law" for tonight. It is a two reel drama and is said to be a sensational picture. The story is an appealing one and tells how the oil trust grinds down a family of independent workers. Mae Marsh is featured. The other is a Lubin comedy "The Harmless One." Romania Fielding is shown in this one.

Miss Ann Swinburne, acknowledged to be the best light opera star before the public today, dainty and sweet, and "The Madcap Duchess" Victor Herbert's latest and most entrancing composition, is a combination which you won't be able to resist when it appears at English's Opera House, Indianapolis, Monday, February 2d, 3d and 4th, with a Wednesday matinee. Miss Swinburne was last season a member of the all-star cast of "Robin Hood" and in "The Madcap Duchess" which was written especially for her, she has every possible opportunity to display her beautiful voice and her ability as an actress as well. This opera is said to be the equal in every way of "Robin Hood" and to insure Victor Herbert's music the best possible rendition, an orchestra of picked musicians is carried with the company. The story, too, is interesting, setting forth the adventures of a wilful lady who manages to escape the watchful eye of a guardian and have a good time, to the consternation of the latter.

A crook play, where everybody else thinks everybody else a thief, makes an interesting play, and none have attained greater popularity than Cohan & Harris' "Stop Thief," which will be seen at English's opera house, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 5th, 6th and 7th, with a matinee Saturday. Two kleptomaniacs and a real crook hold the center of the stage. One Kleptomaniac is a millionaire and the other his prospective son-in-law, and on the wedding day their troubles culminate. Each is trying to conceal from the other his tendencies and a real crook, smuggled into the house by a lady's maid, takes advantage of the situation to pick up all the valuables he can lay hands on. The fun begins at the rise of the curtain, and you are kept in a constant uproar of laughter until the end of the play, and although you think you know at the outset just who the crooks are, before the end of the first act you are beginning to guess and at the end of the second you are sure you were all wrong in your first conclusions.

According to custom the bride-elect was blind-folded and led to the "hope-box" from which she selected the gift of Miss Freda Fischer thus destined to be the next bride and the gift of Miss Sallie Logan who will give the shower in her honor.

A luncheon of sandwiches, pickles, fruit salad, chocolate and wafers were served. Pretty little pink and white hearts tied with ribbon were given as favors.

Another pretty event honoring Miss Dolan and Mr. Dickey was given by Miss Ione Piper at her home in Fairview. The house was beautiful in its decorations of hearts and cupids. A number of amusing contests were engaged in. Refreshments of sandwiches, pressed chicken, pickles, salad, cake and ice-cream were served and pink and white carnations were given as favors.

Those present were Misses Doris Saxon, Luella Elwell, Mary Hinchman, Martha Clayton, Leona Brooks Loraine Thompson, Elsie Shipley, Gertrude Dolan, Frances George and Naomi Baker and Messrs. Gifford Cook, Virgil Vickrey, Berle Hinchman, John Clayton, Jr., Russell Baker, Van Lewark, Wilbur Gibbs, Albert Dickey and Curtis Scholl.

The guests at departing expressed their appreciation to their charming hostess for such a pleasant afternoon and wishing to Mr. Dickey and his bride-to-be many long years of happy wedded life.

Both Mr. Dickey and Miss Dolan are members of one of the community's best families and number their friends by the scores.

Mrs. Ab Denning and Mrs. Alvin Moor will entertain the members of the old bowling club, the Thimble club and a few guests at six o'clock dinner tonight at the home of Mrs. Moor in North Main street. About fifty guests will be present.

Mrs. Lewis M. Sexton, Mrs. F. B. Johnson and Miss Lena Buell entertained delightfully in the parlors of the Social club yesterday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Forrest Remsberg of Raton, New Mexico, formerly Miss Helen Sexton of Rushville.

A color scheme of green and white was carried out in all of the decorations. Cedar and palms were used very artistically. A three course dinner was served. Mrs. J. C. Sexton proved to be the best at cards and Mrs. Fred Caldwell carried away second honors.

Those who did not care to sit at cards were furnished with a contest that aroused much fun. Pictures of many well known Rushville people when they were babies or in their youth were provided and the guests guessed who the pictures were. Mrs. Wooden won the honors in their contest.

In addition to Mrs. Remsberg, Mrs. Bookwalter of Shelbyville were guests.

Among the several anti-nuptial events honoring the approaching marriage of Miss Gertrude Dolan of Fairview to Albert Dickey was a miscellaneous shower given by Misses Mary Hinchman and Doris Saxon at the home of the latter near Fairview.

The reception room and library were tastefully decorated in the bride's colors pink and white. On a table in the center of the library was placed a prettily decorated "hope-box" into which the guests deposited their gifts. Much merriment was occasioned by the reading of "The life" of the honor guest each guest contributing a chapter. A contest in which the guests were given 15 minutes to write as many words as possible containing the syllable "man" resulted in Miss Mariam Frye winning the prize for greatest number and Mrs. Lilian Rea Martin the consolation prize.

Another contest was in which each person present was requested to make the face of a man from a plastic material awarded the prizes went to Misses Naomi Baker and Leona Brooks.

At nine-thirty o'clock Sunday morning, there will be forty-eight Rushville people in Rushville homes standing at their telephones. Then the click of the apparatus at the telephone building will begin and employees who happen to be there then will probably provide themselves with ear muffs because simultaneously everyone of these forty-eight people will begin calling people by telephone. The work is all divided and they will not stop until every telephone number in the directory has been called.

This is one of the methods to be employed to call the attention of people to the fact that next Sunday is "go-to-church Sunday." Special efforts are being made to attract every person in Rushville to some house of worship for a least one service, if not both.

Large banners are being displayed in various parts of the city to prod the remembrance of everyone on the significance of the day. The observance will be nation-wide.

Community is Individual.

The world moves. Time flies. Men change. Commerce develops. The opportunities of today are greater than those of yesterday. These are some of the forces that compose universal progress.

To succeed, you must move. You must keep on going, if you are filled with the ambition to keep on top. To stand still means to go backward. There is no future in the past.

Today is dedicated to you. Today you have the opportunity to keep on going. You even have the chance to speed up and forge ahead, leading the others. You can't expect to advance if you loiter or stop on the way to rest. There is no need of looking backward.

Cast your eyes to the future. Elbow your way along through the crowd. Be one of the pace setters. It is folly to depend upon past performances. While you are thinking about some success in the past, a more eager man will come along and soon get ahead of you.

You must climb or be climbed over. You must move with the world or you'll get stepped on.

The world can give you its solid earth and its thousands of opportunities and privileges of growth—as a foundation. But you must be a builder. You must keep in motion. The force that drove you yesterday gave you the momentum that you start out with today. You must continue to supply the fuel. You can't go very far with merely the momentum of yesterday.

If you fail to keep up your pace—if you fail to keep on moving—if you lag behind—you are hurting your-self, maybe others who depend upon you.

A log splitter got ahead of the race, and the world knows him as Lincoln. A farmer boy kept ahead of his times and became the great Empire Builder—James J. Hill. A storekeeper in New York broke away from precedent and became the great merchant—A. T. Stewart.

Don't make the race entirely physical. Use your head. Discover your best pace and develop it carefully. Keep advancing daily. Increase your strength. Think!

Discard all impediments. Let nothing stop you from going ahead. Forget yesterday's victories by setting new standards for today.

That which applies to you applies to your town. We must get ahead as a community as well as individuals. Let us make this town keep up with the progress of other towns and, if possible, move a little faster ahead. Let us work not only for our individual selves, but for the town in which we live. The opportunity of both the town and ourselves is today. Today's opportunity is always the best opportunity, since it is the one that can be immediately seized. Do not wait for the future to make and will always be given his personal attention; kept to the present high standard.

Hopes Friends and Neighbors Will Respond to Church Bells Sunday

(By Father M. W. Lyons.)

The church in which the writer is privileged to exercise an humble ministry does not usually lend itself to the constantly recurring suggestions of religious novelty.

This attitude is neither one of spine-indifference to supposed modern advance not yet a churlish disinclination to participate in laudable activities for the common good. It is rather the conservative spirit of an ancient institution which has profited by the experience of long centuries in holding fast the traditions she has learned and in refusing to allow the things that are essential to be confounded with the passing fancies of a restless day.

But sometimes there comes the "one clear call" and the response is unflinching.

It is for this reason that I am now happy to co-operate with the Rushville Ministerial Association in the appeal for a general attendance of all citizens at church next Sunday.

During the week the pastors of the different churches will contribute articles to the press setting forth reasons why Rushville, always so staunch a supporter of churches, should join in this nationwide movement.

Indeed I feel that this phase of the subject will be covered so thoroughly and so satisfactorily, that perhaps I shall be making a more interesting contribution of the

this a good town or to make you something that you want to be. Rather lay hold of the present and make the future secure.

There's just one word which solves the problem—that's ORGANIZATION.

ALL SET FOR FIGHT.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—Providing Mayor Bell's ban on boxing contests does not extend to this match, Jack Dillon, the best scrapper Indianapolis has ever produced in the light-weight division, will fight Harry Baker of Philadelphia here tonight in the presence of an audience recruited largely from among the delegates to the United Mine Workers convention. Frank Klaus, who was scheduled to meet Baker, has not been able to get in shape for the bout.

The Jess Pugh concert company will appear at Milroy Saturday night. Miss Hogsett and Mr. Pugh arrived here yesterday from Kentucky, where they appeared in several cities. Several local people will go to Milroy Saturday night. The company will leave the first of next week for Michigan and are booked for several places in Canada.

symposium, by answering the question so frequently put to me: "Why is it, that Catholics are so faithful in attending church?" Now I am quite conscious of the fact that we, in common with other churches, have only too many members who allow themselves to look lightly on God's command: "Remember thou keep holy the Sabbath Day."

But there are two reasons for the loyalty of the great body of our people. First, we believe that Jesus Christ is really and truly present in the church. We go there to adore Him. This should be sufficient to insure our attendance every Sunday. But then the Church commands us to go and we believe that the Church is His living, divine voice with the power to command, even as He, under penalty of damnation.

The Real Presence of Jesus Christ to attract, the authority of a visible Church to command:—this is the explanation why every Sunday is a Church-Going-Sunday for the followers of the ancient Christ; this is why the Sunday morning bell is hearkened to as though it were the voice of God, no matter what the weather may be.

But the bells of the other churches also ring sweetly to our ears and we pray that the coming Sunday and succeeding Sundays may find our friends and neighbors responding numerously to their pleading call.

HOPE TO REPEAT.

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 30.—Hope of establishing a new record in Earlham athletic annals—a double victory over Indiana University—will spur the Quakers on tonight in the basketball game with the Hoosier five. Last Saturday Earlham defeated the Indiana quintet. Since then, however, the Bloomington boys have felt a severe shaking up and tonight they will be out for revenge.

ONE IS TOO BUSY COOKING

(By United Press.)

Fort Wayne, Ind., Jan. 30.—"Why don't you go to church?" was asked a dozen residents of Fort Wayne, including a few leading citizens. Some of the reasons given follow:

"I don't need to go to church. I have passed the point at which the church appeals to me I do not believe that church going is necessary after one learns the reasons for attending."

"I am busy cooking Sunday dinner for a family of seven. I do not blame the church but I know that I am not to blame."

"I worked late on Saturday nights and on Sunday morning I am too tired to get up for church. I think the sleep does me more good than the sermon."

"If our preacher were more up-to-date and less of a bore, I certainly should go to church."

"I used to be prominent in a church. Then I got to know the other leaders too well. They were hypocrites. I got out."

"I run a train past Winona Lake nearly every day all summer, and it is my business relations with the hundreds of sourfaced ministers who go to the resort that has driven me away from my church."

"My husband and I are members of different churches. I could not ask him to change. I know that he would feel hurt if I continually went to my own church."

She designed her own machine, the interviewer says, and has paid a large sum for a new windshield, worked out by those capable and wonderful hands of hers. The National Popular Government League Will Enter State in Support of Referendum.

Judson King Says Indiana Needs a Constitutional Revision and Believes State Will Get It.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—Held from unexpected sources is coming to the constitutional reform forces in Indiana when the fight opens for adoption—of the referendum (at the November election) for a constitutional convention.

The National Popular Government League, with headquarters in Washington, D. C. will enter the state in support of the referendum. Money and Speakers will be poured into Indiana. Judson King, formerly editor of the Michigan labor unions' official organ and later labor representative in the Ohio constitution fight, is authority for the promised help here.

"The reason why Indiana has not kept pace with the more progressive states in over-throwing political corruption, but still submits to the rule of a boss like Taggart, has been a good deal of a puzzle to friends of progress throughout the nation," said King.

"Down in Washington I have met patriots on the public pay roll from Indiana who tried to lead me to believe that the people of Indiana like it. I don't believe it."

"I believe the reason lies in your lack of political machinery which renders it possible for the people to rule. You are trying to control the nomination and the election of candidates by means of a primary law and other election machinery constructed especially by and for the political machines. Your corrupt practices are jokes which no political crook need be afraid; not the man who furnishes him with the money with which to buy elections."

"Indiana is one of the states that is trying to keep up with an express train civilization with an ox cart constitution, and we certainly hope that this state will get a constitutional revision convention at the election this fall."

WHAT IS OLD AGE

Some Younger at 65 Than Others Are at 40 Years.

Old age is not marked by years, but by the stiffened frame, the hardened tissues and arteries.

So many people whom you meet about the time they reach 40 begin by saying "I can't do this, and I can't do that, because I'm getting old now," they begin to act old, feel old and they are older in appearance than many who are much more advanced in years.

When you begin to feel old, when your energy begins to fail build your self up with our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. It is a wonderful blood-maker and strengthener.

H. C. Klyce of Corinth, Miss., says: "I am 75 years old and my blood was very poor. I was in a rundown condition and felt that I must have a tonic. Vinol was recommended and it built up my strength until I felt as strong and well as ever."

Thousands of old people have found in Vinol just the medicine they need to build up the feeble, weakened system and create strength. If it fails, we return your money. F. B. Johnson & Co. Drugists Rushville, Ind.

BY BURTON E. STEVENSON

Copyright, 1913, by Burton E. Stevenson

"Shall I call a cab, sir?"

"No; the walk will do me good. I'll see you tomorrow."

The walk up town did me good. It was long past midnight when I finally turned in at the Marathon. Higgins, the janitor, was just closing the outer doors, and he joined me in the elevator a moment later.

"There's a gentleman waiting to see you, sir," he said as the car started upward. "Mr. Godfrey, sir. He came in about ten minutes ago. He said you were expecting him, so I let him into your rooms."

I found Godfrey lolling in an easy chair, and he looked up with a smile at my entrance.

"How do you keep it up, Godfrey?" I asked, sitting down opposite him. "You don't seem tired at all."

"I am tired, though," he said, "a little. But I've got a fool brain that won't let my body go to sleep so long as there is work to be done. Besides, I have a thing or two to tell you."

"Go ahead," I said.

"We come to the conclusion, then," continued Godfrey, "that the business of this unknown Frenchman with Vantine in some way concerned this cabinet."

"Vantine himself thought so," I broke in. "He told me afterward that it was because he thought so he consented to see him."

"Good! That would seem to indicate that we are on the right track. The Frenchman's business, then, had something to do with this cabinet and with this secret drawer. Left to himself, he discovered the cabinet in the room adjoining the anteroom, attempted to open the drawer and was killed."

"Yes," I agreed. "And now how about Vantine?"

"Vantine's death isn't so simply explained. Presumably the unknown woman also called on business relating to the cabinet. She, also wanted to open the secret drawer, in order to secure its contents. That seems fairly certain from her connection with the first caller."

"You still think it was her photograph?"

"Yes; I had some taken of the body this afternoon. Here's one of them. Keep it. You may have use for it."

I took the card, and, as I gazed at the face depicted upon it, I realized that the distorted countenance I had seen in the afternoon had given me no idea of the man's appearance. Now the eyes were closed and the features composed and peaceful, but even death failed to give them any dignity. It was a weak and dissipated face, the face of a hanger on of cafes, of a loiterer along the boulevards.

"I don't see what business he could have had with Philip Vantine," I said.

"Neither do I; but no doubt we can establish this fellow's identity in time—sooner than we think, perhaps, for most of the morning papers will run his picture, and if he is known here in New York at all, it will be recognized by some one. When we find out who he is, we can probably guess at the nature of his business with Vantine. We can find out who the woman was who called to see Vantine tonight—that is just a case of grilling Rogers; then we can run her down and get her secret out of her. We can find why Rogers is trying to shield her. All that is comparatively simple. But we don't want to know these things. What we want to know is how Philip Vantine and this unknown Frenchman were killed. And that is just the one thing which, I am convinced, neither the man nor the woman nor Rogers nor anybody else we have come across in this case can tell us. There's a personality behind all this that we haven't even suspected yet, and which, I am free to confess, I don't know how to get at."

"Godfrey," I said, "what I am about to tell you is told in confidence, and must be held in confidence until I give you permission to use it. Do you agree?"

"Go on," he said, his eyes on my face.

"Well, I believe I know how these two men were killed. Listen."

And I told him in detail the story of the Boule cabinet. I repeated Vantine's theory of its first ownership; I named the price which he was ready to pay for it; I described the difference between an original and a counterpart and dwelt upon Vantine's assertion that this was an original of unique and unquestionable artistry.

"Beautiful!" Godfrey murmured from time to time. "Immense! What a case it will make, Lester!" he cried.

"Then you see it too?" I questioned.

"See it?" and he dropped into his chair again. "A man would be blind not to see it. But all the same, Lester, I give you credit for putting the facts together."

That was an objection, truly, and the more I thought of it the more serious it seemed.

"It may be," said Godfrey at last, "that D'Aurelle was going it alone—that he had broken with the gang."

"The gang?"

"Of course there is a gang. This thing has taken careful planning and concerted effort. And the leader of the gang is a genius! I wonder if you understand how great a genius? Think! He knows the secret of the drawer of Mme. de Montespan's cabinet. But, above all, he knows the secret of the poison—the poison of the Medicis! Do you know what that means, Lester?"

"What does it mean?" I asked, for Godfrey was getting ahead of me.

"It means he is a great criminal—a really great criminal—one of the elect from whom crime has no secrets. Observe. He alone knows the secret of the poison. One of his men breaks away from him and pays for his mutiny with his life. He is the brain; the others are merely the instruments!"

"Then you don't believe it was by accident that cabinet was sent to Vantine?"

"By accident? Not for an instant! It was part of a plot—and a splendid plot!"

"Can you explain that to me too?" I queried a little ironically.

He smiled good naturedly at my tone.

"Of course this is all mere romance," he admitted. "I am the first to acknowledge that. I was merely following out our theory to what seemed its logical conclusion. But perhaps we are on the wrong track altogether. Perhaps D'Aurelle, or whatever his name is, just blundered in like a moth into a candle flame. As for the plot—well, I can only guess at it. But suppose you and I had pulled off some big robbery!"

He stopped suddenly and his face went white and then red. "Lester!" he cried, his voice shrill with fear. "The cabinet—it isn't guarded!"

"Yes, it is," I said. "At least I thought of that!"

And I told him of the precautions I had taken to keep it safe. He heard me out with a sigh of relief.

"I think the cabinet is safe—for tonight. And before another night, Lester, we will have a look for ourselves."

"A look?"

"Yes; for the secret drawer!"

"D'Aurelle and Vantine found it," I muttered thickly.

"It won't kill us. We will go about it armored. Lester. That poisoned fang may strike, but I'll be ready. Lester. There will be no danger. Come, man! Why, it's the chance of a lifetime—match ourselves against the greatest criminal of modern times!"

His shrill laugh told how excited he was.

There was a wizardry in his manner not to be resisted.

"Yes," I answered, with a quick intake of the breath; "I'll come!"

"I knew you would! Tomorrow night, then—I'll call for you here at 7 o'clock. We will have dinner together—and then, hey for the great secret!"

The door closed behind him, and his footsteps died away down the hall. I looked at my watch—it was nearly 2 o'clock.

Dizzily I went to bed. But my sleep was broken by a fearful dream—a dream of a serpent, with blazing eyes and dripping fangs, poised to strike!

My first thought when I awoke next morning was for Parks. It was with a lively sense of relief that I heard Parks' voice answer my call on the phone.

"This is Mr. Lester," I said. "Is everything all right?"

"Everything serene, sir," he answered. "It would take a mighty smooth burglar to get in here now, sir."

"How is that?" I asked.

"Reporters are camped all around the house, sir. They seem to think somebody else will be killed here to-day."

To be continued.

That every vehicle user in Rush County had to buy his vehicles where he could get the best bargain for his money and leave it to the majority of vehicle users in the county to decide, you would have to buy your next one from us or break the law. There is no question about this, as the majority has already decided we give them more value for their money than they can get elsewhere and have backed up their judgment by buying their vehicles from us. The road service you can get out of one of our buggies makes it an easy proposition for us to sell a customer the second time and also makes it easy for us to sell his neighbors and friends as our vehicle users are always satisfied and make us customers. We still have a few of those nice, roomy Storm Buggies in stock and also have a sample of our 1915 Storm Buggy that you want to see. It is the first Storm Buggy ever built that has sliding doors that can not rattle and also has several new features you want to see. Bring your vehicle business to us no matter what it is and we will take care of it.

VICE SEGREGATION FAILS

Chicago Detective Says it Never Can Succeed.

(By United Press.)

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 30.—"Segregation of vice is and always will be a failure," said Owen Wiard, the Chicago detective, in an address at the Oliver theater here.

"Segregation can never succeed because it is wrong," he said. "It is a case of going into partnership with the devil."

Wiard cited the Indiana law which enables officials to reach owners of property rented for immoral purposes.

"They collect excessive rents from these premises and a few injunctions and a few arrests of property owners, will soon wipe out your vice districts," the detective said. Mayor Keller, the members of the board of safety and the board of public works heard Wiard.

ECHOES FROM CIRCLEVILLE

Circleville Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people in our town who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Circleville resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

Hiram Whalen, R. R. No. 1, Circleville, Rushville, Ind., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a fine remedy and we always keep them in the house. I had pains in my back that made it hard for me to straighten after stooping and my kidneys caused me a great deal of trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills stopped the pains and aches and regulated the kidney action."

IS SHARP ENOUGH TO BE NOTICEABLE

Change Comes in Temperature, as Was Predicted, But Mercury Didn't Get Below Freezing.

A RAINBOW THIS MORNING

The winter's blasts did not blow in such large quantities as was expected last night and today, but still the change was sharp enough to be rather noticeable following the spring weather that has prevailed for last several days. The temperature dropped thirty degrees last night and the same kind of weather is predicted for tomorrow.

An unusual phenomena was noted this morning. A beautiful rainbow appeared in the western skies about seven o'clock. Such a thing is very uncommon at this season. The sun was just rising above a bank of clouds and although only a slight mist fell, the rainbow shown forth in all the lustre one ever appears in the summer time.

TOM TAGGART SAYS HE'S NOT RUNNING

Indiana Democratic Boss Makes Definite Statement That He Wants No Political Office.

HE DECLARIES FOR SHIVELY

(Special to the Daily Republican) Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—Before his departure for French Lick last evening National Committeeman Thomas Taggart not only exploded the recent boom that had been started for him as a candidate for the United States senate, but declared himself in favor of Senator B. F. Shively, who is a candidate for re-election.

"I appreciate the honor of having my name mentioned as a probable candidate for United States senator from the great state of Indiana, but I shall not be a candidate," said Mr. Taggart. "Since I left the office of mayor of Indianapolis I never have been a candidate for any public office. I have no aspirations at the present time to become a candidate for the office of United States senator—or for any other political office.

"I can see no reason why Senator Shively should not be a candidate for re-election nor why he should not be re-elected in order that he may help carry out the program of progressive legislation which President Wilson has in mind."

ACCUSED OF KILLING GIRL

Samuel L. Steffy on Trial in Starke Circuit Court.

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 30.—With Henry A. Steffy of South Bend sitting as special judge in the Starke county circuit court, the trial of Samuel L. Steffy, who is alleged to have killed Pearl May Henning, living near the town of Pulaski, was begun. Steffy was recovering from an illness at the Henning home, and while alone with Miss Henning one afternoon a gun which was in the room was discharged, the young woman being instantly killed. Steffy declared the tragedy was an accident and was not arrested for six months, when, after the body of the young woman had been exhumed, a grand jury indictment charging murder in the first degree was returned. Steffy has a wife and five children in Arkansas.

Donald Nestor Convicted.

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 30.—A verdict of manslaughter, carrying with it a sentence of from two to twenty-one years imprisonment, was returned by the jury in the case of Donald Nestor, who stabbed Richard Cook to death with a pair of scissors. Nestor, a well-known young man, stabbed Cook last October, after the two had engaged in a quarrel on Main street. Cook did not die until several weeks after the assault.

Imbecile Burned to Death.

Bremen, Ind., Jan. 30.—An imbecile child was burned to death and another was so severely burned that death is expected, in a fire that destroyed the upper story of the home of Edward Goetz. The fire was first seen when the entire upper part of the house was burning, making rescue of the children impossible.

No married man in Vienna is allowed to go up in a balloon without the formal consent of his wife and children.

CONTRACTS ARE CANCELLED

Carthage had an experience with burial association which an Indiana legislature made illegal. The association was started in an adjoining county about ten years ago and several people in the vicinity of Carthage entered into it with the belief that they would in this way provide a decent burial for themselves. The law compelled such associations to transfer their contracts with an insurance company, but the legislators, realizing such organizations should be wiped out, added a "joker" which gave the companies the right to cancel the obligation at the end of five years.

The company has just served notice on the policy holders that the contract is cancelled. The innocent contract holder has been paying in his money, but now he will get nothing in return.

CALLS GOMPERS BOOZE FIGHTER

Delegate Duncan McDonald of Illinois Threw Miners' Convention Into Uproar Today.

"LIAR, SLANDERED," REPLY

Duncan Charges That A. F. of L. Head Was Howling at Recent Convention in Seattle.

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—"Booze fighter" was the charge Duncan McDonald hurled at Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, at the convention of Union Mine Workers of America here today, "It's a lie," roared Gompers, rising and shaking his fist at the Illinois delegate.

That Gompers was howling drunk at the recent convention of the A. F. of L. was the charge McDonald made.

"Liar, slanderer," Gompers shouted, pounding a table.

The convention was in an uproar. A resolution committee headed by Gompers, was so noisy at a Seattle hotel, McDonald declared, that he and his wife in the room next to the committee could not sleep. After futile complaint to the labor leaders and the hotel management, McDonald said he opened the door of the room to administer a rebuke and found "a bunch sitting around a table headed by Gompers howling drunk."

McDonald said the A. F. of L. was in the control of a machine and that Socialists are barred from holding effective offices in the organization.

The damage to the Windsor hotel from the recent fire has been repaired. The roof, which suffered the most, has been replaced and the work on the interior has started.

CAN'T GIVE UP GAMBLING

South Bend Sports Use Lead Pencils Instead of Dice.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 30.—The enforcement of liquor and gambling laws in South Bend during the last month has led saloon men and gamblers to form numerous clubs, which the police believe are for the distinct purpose of providing a means for the sale of liquor after hours and also to make it possible to pull off poker games. A vigorous investigation is being made and it's probable that all so-called clubs will be raided.

Since slot machines, dice and card games and all other games of chance have been placed under the ban it has been learned that in several saloons and cigar stores the planes of lead pencils have been numbered and these rolled in lieu of dice. In many instances men are also carrying dice in their pockets for use when they enter barrooms and cigar stands.

After thoroughly inspecting the trees in your nurseries I decided that I would be unable to get better trees anywhere, and when the one thousand trees which I bought of you arrived at the fruit farm we were well pleased with them as they came in fine condition. They looked even better after they were set out. You should have no trouble in selling all the trees you can raise.

UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE

Vol. 10. No. 277.

Rushville, Indiana, Friday Evening, January 30, 1914.

Single Copies, 2 Cents.

TOTAL NEARS A HUNDRED TODAY

Twenty-Two Members Are Added to Chamber of Commerce and Many Districts Are Uncanvassed.

A NEED FOR MORE WORKERS

Work Goes Over Until Monday When Effort Will be Made to Close Canvassing by Wednesday.

Twenty-two new members have been added to the Chamber of Commerce since the workers reported yesterday and the work was going forward today with as much enthusiasm as ever. The spirit at the noon luncheon was just as good and three teams of men started out at the conclusion of the meal. Another team was to work later in the afternoon.

Tomorrow no canvassing will be done since Saturday is generally a very busy day, but Monday renewed energy will be applied in order to reach all of the people who intend to join the Chamber.

The first list of new members, which will include those up to Monday afternoon, will be published Monday evening. The total is up to ninety-seven today and it felt that the total will go above the two hundred mark by the middle of next week.

The chief trouble has been in obtaining men who will give a short period of time each day to canvassing. Every person, before they become a member, wants a careful explanation of the prospects and aims of the proposed organization. This requires the time of the canvassers and the result is that they can cover much territory in an hour, which is about as much time as any man gives to the work.

This accounts for the fact that only about half of the prospective members have been seen by canvassers. Those who have been attempting to get new members have met with very little opposition.

Wherever there has been any disposition to look at the project unfavorably, it is always found that those who take this view have never made a single inquiry but rather have depended on some irresponsible reports for information.

The aims and intentions of the Chamber of Commerce have been outlined both in the public meetings which have been held and in the newspapers. The executive committee, the meeting of which nine representative men of Rushville attended and made up the committee, decided to ask Mr. Charles to put on the campaign after they held a closed session to themselves and talked over the matter thoroughly.

Persons who have not been seen by canvassers and are contemplating the proposition need only to inquire to learn what has been accomplished by organization in other cities even in this part of Indiana.

Rushville people have seen what has been accomplished by short-lived organizations in Rushville, even though they have never been as composite or never had as altruistic aims as has the present project.

CASE TOMORROW.

The case of the state against Cleve Plummer, charged with refusing to assist an officer, will be heard tomorrow morning at nine o'clock by Gates Sexton, who was appointed special judge by Mayor Beabout.

The funeral services of Eli Mass, who died yesterday at his home in Connersville will be held at the late residence there Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Nancy Miller, 69 years old, widow of the late Stewart Miller, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rolla Clingman, south of Homer, last night shortly before nine o'clock. Mrs. Miller had been in ill health for the past five months but had not been in a serious condition until the past week, when pneumonia developed, causing her death. Mrs. Miller was a well known resident of Walker township. Mrs. Clingman is the only child. A son, George Miller, died last September. The funeral services will be held Saturday morning at ten o'clock in the Christian Union church in Homer. Burial will take place in the Hurst cemetery.

FIND $62 WORTH OF SILK STOLEN

Employees of E. R. Casady Dry Goods Store Make This Discovery When They Open Box.

RAILROAD MAN HERE TODAY

When a box of valuable silks was opened at the E. R. Casady dry goods store late yesterday afternoon, it was found that bundles of silk valued at sixty-two dollars had been stolen some time while the box was enroute here from St. Louis. The theft was not discovered until the box was opened because the robbers had been clever enough to open the box and nail it back on again without arousing the suspicion of anyone who might handle the box.

The railroad was notified at once and a representative of the road arrived here this afternoon to get details and run down the culprits. Tracers have been sent along the route which the box came and an effort will be made to learn just where the theft was committed.

James Meek of Glenwood Victim of Highwaymen Near Indianapolis Stock Yards.

WATCH ALL THAT WAS TAKEN

James A. Meek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Meek of Glenwood, employed at the stock yards in Indianapolis, is recovering from a blow on the head received at the hands of some unknown person with robbery as a motive. Mr. Meek was rendered unconscious and was robbed of his watch. He has been at the stock yards for the past three months. He was found near the stock yards Wednesday night and taken to the city hospital. His parents did not hear of the accident until yesterday. Perry Meek, the father had shipped two car loads of hogs to the market in care of his son when they were not taken care of, he was notified and went to Indianapolis where it developed that he was son was in the hospital as a result of his injuries. The injured man sustained a severe blow on the head and for a time it was thought that the skull was fractured, but he is now able to be up and has resumed his work.

CAMPAIGN DATE WAS CHANGED

At Meeting of Laymen and Ministers Last Night Local Missionary Conference Organized.

WILL BE HELD FEB. 24 AND 25

Purpose is to Bring Churches a Vision of the Present Conditions of the World Problem.

A united missionary campaign conference was organized last night at a meeting of the Rushville Ministerial association and five laymen from each church with the Rev. Bruce L. Kershner, a missionary from Manilla, P. I. The meeting was held at the St. Paul M. E. church at the close of the prayer meeting.

James E. Watson was selected as the chairman of the general committee. The date was originally announced as February 3 and 4, but was changed last night to February 24 and 25. Committees were named last night.

About twenty conferences such as are contemplated here are being held in the state of Indiana. The movement is inter-denominational and nation wide. It is backed by all the missionary boards of all evangelical churches, and is planned by the Layman's missionary movement. The conference will be conducted by a team of four men, specialists in their line.

The conference will last during two evenings and a day. February 3d and 4th were the dates given Rushville by the state committee. As the local organization for the conference was not effected until last night, the men requested the committee to change the dates to February 24th and 25th.

The money is to be raised during the conference. Its purpose is to bring to the churches a vision of the present condition of the world problem, from the missionary standpoint, and give to the churches the latest, most approved, up-to-date methods of carrying forward their missionary enterprise.

The salaries of the men composing the team are provided by their church boards. The travelling expenses, entertainment, and other expenses are to be furnished by the city where the conference is held. The churches of the county are to be enlisted in the conference.

With James E. Watson as chairman, the general committee is as follows: Geo. C. Wyatt, vice chairman; A. W. Jamieson, secretary and W. E. Wallace, treasurer.

Chairmen of the other committees were selected as follows: Arrangements, S. L. Trabue; Publicity, John A. Tisworth; Finance, T. M. Green; Statistics, Carl Webb; Education, J. H. Scholl; Extension work, C. M. Yocom.

"TESSIE" RYAN STORY SUBJECT

Daughter of Rev. Daniel Ryan of Arlington Grows Famous as Actor in New York City.

"FEATURE" CONCERNS HER

Writer in N. Y., Telegram Tells of Her Work as Mrs. Garland in "Today" Current Attraction.

Mrs. Maxwell Conover, daughter of the Rev. Daniel Ryan, pastor of the Arlington Methodist church, and well known all over Rush county, has made a name for herself in New York in the part of Mrs. Garland in "Today."

The New York Morning Telegraph devote a half page story, with art, to Mrs. Conover, who is best known here as Teresa Ryan—or for short, "Tessie."

The feature story in the Telegraph starts with a picture of the "wonderful Teresa Maxwell Conover hand," and the writer declares these hands to be the most expressive on the stage today. Various sculptors have casts of these hands, the story says, and use them in their master pieces. Hands as dramatic as those of Bernhardt, is the way the reporter has spoken of them.

After Mrs. Conover married John Thompson Conover, 3d, a Wall street broker, she retired from the stage. But managers wanted her for this or that and she reappeared at the New Theater in "Nobody's Daughter," under the management of Winthrop Ames. Then came an engagement with Gertrude Elliott. Her next appearance was with the Belasco forces in "The Governor's Lady," and now she is playing the part of Mrs. Garland in "Today."

And in speaking of her work in "Today," the writer in the Telegraph says:

"Those who have not seen Mrs. Conover's delightful portrayal of Mrs. Garland in 'Today' have a treat in store. Her performances are finished, well poised and deft."

"This woman with her wonderful hands, her patrician face, her exquisite gowns and her perfect diction is a joy. Teresa Maxwell Conover is an artist to her finger tips. She is often the central figure in a cast that is nearly perfect, and yet even in such a cast, she dominates many scenes for it is impossible to get away from her delightful personality which she stands, even for a moment, before you."

WIFE TESTIFIES FOR HER HUSBAND

Mrs. Walter Runyan on Witness Stand in Defense of Walter Runyan.

ROXIE HART TO TAKE STAND

Crawfordsville, Ind., Jan. 30.—On her twenty-eighth birthday today, Mrs. Walter Runyan was on the witness stand in defense of her young husband charged with first degree murder for the killing of Arlie M. Stull. She blackened the dead man's name as a false friend, who was insane over an illegitimate love for her and tried to separate her and her husband. While Mrs. Runyan testified she looked tenderly at her husband who the state has accused of being intimate with her cousin, Miss Roxie Hart of Illinois.

Miss Hart arrived here today to make the same allegation and to defend her name. That Stull threatened to kill Runyan and that Runyan and the witness became so worried over Stull's queer behavior that they took refuge overnight with William Runyan, brother of the defendant, was Mrs. Runyan's testimony today. She said she refused to return to her own home where she would be near Stull unless Runyan borrowed a revolver of his brother. With this weapon Runyan killed Stull in self defense, he asserted.

49 PERSONS ARE BELIEVED LOST

Dominion Liner Monroe Collides With Steamer Nantucket Off Virginia Cape Today.

A DENSE FOG IS THE CAUSE

Eighty-Six Survive Disaster and Others May be in Life Boats, Shut Off by Mist.

(By United Press.)

Norfolk, Va., Jan. 30.—Forty-seven persons are believed to have been drowned when the old Dominion liner, Monroe, sank twenty minutes after colliding headon with the Merchants and Miners steamer, Nantucket, off the Virginia cape at one forty o'clock this morning.

The Nantucket is slowly coming toward this port town and on her are eighty-six survivors from the Monroe. It is hoped that some of the missing persons are in Monroe life boats, but were lost from sight in the impenetrable fog.

The Monroe carried fifty-four passengers and a crew of seventy-nine. Of the crew twenty-four are missing. The Nantucket carried only two passengers and not a person on her was injured in the crash.

The passengers and most of the crew were asleep when the crash came and the confusion must have been indescribable. Details are very meagre. Many of those saved were picked out of the sea.

The Nantucket ordered her boats manned, and after a hasty examination showed that she would float, the life boats were ordered out and went to the rescue of Monroe's passengers. It is believed that those who lost their lives were trapped in their beds. Captain Johnson of the Monroe was saved.

As soon as the wireless sparked its way through the dense fog, half a dozen rushed to the scene but were too late. Some of the rescue fleet took the Nantucket in escort and others waited for the dawn of day to search for the missing.

WAS POSTPONED.

The trial of M. J. Ogdon, charged with assault and battery on Jesse Smith, was postponed until Tuesday evening at seven o'clock. The case was to have been heard this afternoon by Squire Kratzer, but owing to the inability of witnesses to appear it was postponed.

Arrangements were completed last evening between the Sunday school of the Christian church of Shelbyville and the Sunday school of the Christian church of Greencastle for a contest, the purpose of which is to see which Sunday school can have the largest attendance and the largest collection for a month.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE Hopes to Eliminate Plague by Organizing The Farmers.

AND EDUCATING THEM, TOO

Campaign Conducted in Indiana
Brings Good Results—Value
of Serum.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 30.—The Department of Agriculture, during the past year, has been conducting campaigns in Indiana, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska to control the cantagious disease of hogs known as "hog cholera" by means of anti-hog-cholera serum and farm quarantine. In one county (Pettis county Missouri) where there was a loss of 18 per cent in 1911 and 25.6 per cent. in 1912 of all hogs raised, there was only a loss of 14.7 per cent. up to November 1913.

This decrease was due to the use of the serum, which although not used thereby the Department's agent until August, 1913, materially reduced the loss. About 60,000 hog-were raised during the past year and of the 10,000 that died of the hog cholera only about 1,000 were lost after the active use of serum and quarantine measures were inaugurated.

In every county where these measures were employed, even though begun after the disease had continued its ravages for some time, there was less loss from hog cholera than in either of the two preceding years.

In addition to its great function as a preventive, it has been found that the anti-hog-cholera serum would cure a large proportion of hogs in the early stages of the disease and render them immune after recovery. However, if hogs are not treated by this serum, from 75 to 100 per cent. of all affected herds, die. This serum, so far as is known, is the only thing that will prevent the disease.

The object of the Department has been to endeavor to control the disease and if possible, to eliminate it from the country. To secure this and the best efforts of the farmers himself are necessary. The campaign against this devastating sickness during 1913 was planned in the territory selected along three lines.

1. The education and organization of the farmers in the districts selected, to be carried out primarily by the State College.

2. The enforcement of sanitation and restrictive regulations by the State veterinarian.

3. Active supervision by the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department and the inoculation of diseased herds and exposed herds with the anti-hog-cholera serum.

Hog cholera is a disease which seems to be stopped to a degree by the frosts of winter, although frost cannot be said to stop a case after it has taken hold of its victim. However, it seems to prevent the rapid spread of the disease. The result is that in a spring time the affection is as a rule at the lowest ebb but increases rapidly from that time until fall.

Hog cholera does not seem to affect any particular breed of hogs more than another, and while generally the careless farmer is more apt to have the disease among his hogs than the careful one, the disease sometimes occurs where the conditions are sanitary. It is hoped that the work may be extended gradually until the disease is completely controlled or eliminated.
The fact that hog cholera is carried not only by the hogs themselves, but by birds, dogs, streams and even on the feet of men going from one farm to another shows how necessary it is that the campaign be thorough and that farmers exert their best efforts to assist in the work.

Amusements

Society News

The Portola will show the usual three pictures tonight. The first is a Vitagraph comedy "Why I Am Here." Sidney Drew, Ralph Ince and E. K. Lincoln are featured in this one. The second is a Selig drama entitled "The Touch of a Child." The last is a Lubin comedy "The Two Fathers." Peggy O'Neil is shown in this one. The first show starts at seven o'clock.

The Gem will show a Victor drama "The Plaything" for the first picture tonight. James Kirkwood is featured. The second is a comedy entitled "The Enchanted Umbrella." The last is a Milno drama "Granny." Tomorrow night a two part Eclair drama "Pardners" will be shown.

The Princess will show a Biograph feature "By Man's Law" for tonight. It is a two reel drama and is said to be a sensational picture. The story is an appealing one and tells how the oil trust grinds down a family of independent workers. Mae Marsh is featured. The other is a Lubin comedy "The Harmless One." Romania Fielding is shown in this one.

Miss Ann Swinburne, acknowledged to be the best light opera star before the public today, dainty and sweet, and "The Madcap Duchess" Victor Herbert's latest and most entrancing composition, is a combination which you won't be able to resist when it appears at English's Opera House, Indianapolis, Monday, February 2d, 3d and 4th, with a Wednesday matinee. Miss Swinburne was last season a member of the all-star cast of "Robin Hood" and in "The Madcap Duchess" which was written especially for her, she has every possible opportunity to display her beautiful voice and her ability as an actress as well. This opera is said to be the equal in every way of "Robin Hood" and to insure Victor Herbert's music the best possible rendition, an orchestra of picked musicians is carried with the company. The story, too, is interesting, setting forth the adventures of a wilful lady who manages to escape the watchful eye of a guardian and have a good time, to the consternation of the latter.

A crook play, where everybody else thinks everybody else a thief, makes an interesting play, and none have attained greater popularity than Cohan & Harris' "Stop Thief," which will be seen at English's operetta house, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 5th, 6th and 7th, with a matinee Saturday. Two kleptomaniacs and a real crook hold the center of the stage. One Kleptomaniac is a millionaire and the other his prospective son-in-law, and on the wedding day their troubles culminate. Each is trying to conceal from the other his tendencies and a real crook, smuggled into the house by a lady's maid, takes advantage of the situation to pick up all the valuables he can lay hands on. The fun begins at the rise of the curtain, and you are kept in a constant uproar of laughter until the end of the play, and although you think you know at the outset just who the crooks are, before the end of the first act you are beginning to guess and at the end of the second you are sure you were all wrong in your first conclusions.

City Clerk, Rushville, Indiana.

James E. Watson's Sunday School Class will hold an exchange at Mrs. Belle Cosand's Millinery Store, Saturday, February 7th.

Jan 29-30-31-Feb. 5-6.

Those who did not care to sit at cards were furnished with a contest that aroused much fun. Pictures of many well known Rushville people when they were babies or in their youth were provided and the guests guessed who the pictures were. Mrs. Wooden won the honors in their contest.

In addition to Mrs. Remsberg, Mrs. Bookwalter of Shelbyville were guests.

Among the several anti-nuptial events honoring the approaching marriage of Miss Gertrude Dolan of Fairview to Albert Dickey was a miscellaneous shower given by Misses Mary Hinchman and Doris Saxon at the home of the latter near Fairview.

The reception room and library were tastefully decorated in the bride's colors pink and white. On a table in the center of the library was placed a prettily decorated "hope-box" into which the guests deposited their gifts. Much merriment was occasioned by the reading of "The life" of the honor guest each guest contributing a chapter. A contest in which the guests were given 15 minutes to write as many words as possible containing the syllable "man" resulted in Miss Marium Frye winning the prize for greatest number and Mrs. Lillian Rea Martin the consolation prize.

Another contest was in which each person present was requested to make the face of a man from a plastic material awarded the prizes went to Misses Naomi Baker and Leona Brooks.

According to custom the bride-elect was blind-folded and led to the "hope-box" from which she selected the gift of Miss Freda Fischer thus destined to be the next bride and the gift of Miss Sallie Logan who will give the shower in her honor.

A luncheon of sandwiches, pickles, fruit salad, chocolate and wafers were served. Pretty little pink and white hearts tied with ribbon were given as favors.

Another pretty event honoring Miss Dolan and Mr. Dickey was given by Miss Ione Piper at her home in Fairview. The house was beautiful in its decorations of hearts and cupids. A number of amusing contests were engaged in. Refreshments of sandwiches, pressed chicken, pickles, salad, cake and ice-cream were served and pink and white carnations were given as favors.

Those present were Misses Doris

Saxon, Luella Elwell, Mary Hinch-

man, Martha Clayton, Leona

Brooks, Loraine Thompson, Elsie

Shipley, Gertrude Dolan, Frances

George and Naomi Baker and

Messrs. Gifford Cook, Virgil Vickrey, Berle Hinchman, John Clayton,

Jr., Russell Baker, Van Lewark,

Wilbur Gibbs, Albert Dickey and Curtis Scholl.

The guests at departing expressed their appreciation to their charming hostess for such a pleasant afternoon and wishing to Mr. Dickey and his bride-to-be many long years of happy wedded life.

Both Mr. Dickey and Miss Dolan are members of one of the community's best families and number their friends by the scores.

The marriage ceremony will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dolan, on the evening of February 11.

At nine-thirty o'clock Sunday morning, there will be forty-eight Rushville people in Rushville homes standing at their telephones. Then the click of the apparatus at the telephone building will begin and employees who happen to be there then will probably provide themselves with ear muffs because simultaneously everyone of these forty-eight people will begin calling people by telephone. The work is all divided and they will not stop until every telephone number in the directory has been called.

This is one of the methods to be employed to call the attention of people to the fact that next Sunday is "go-to-church Sunday." Special efforts are being made to attract every person in Rushville to some house of worship for a least one service, if not both.

Large banners are being displayed in various parts of the city to prod the remembrance of everyone on the significance of the day. The observance will be nation-wide.

D. M. Roberts, piano tuner, will be in Rushville next week. Leave orders at Abercrombie's Jewelry Store. 2772.

Community is Individual.

The world moves. Time flies. Men change. Commerce develops. The opportunities of today are greater than those of yesterday. These are some of the forces that compose universal progress.

To succeed, you must move. You must keep on going, if you are filled with the ambition to keep on top. To stand still means to go backward. There is no future in the past.

Today is dedicated to you. Today you have the opportunity to keep on going. You even have the chance to speed up and forge ahead, leading the others. You can't expect to advance if you loiter or stop on the way to rest. There is no need of looking backward.

Cast your eyes to the future. Elbow your way along through the crowd. Be one of the pace setters.

It is folly to depend upon past performances. While you are thinking about some success in the past, a more eager man will come along and soon get ahead of you.

You must climb or be climbed over. You must move with the world or you'll get stepped on.

The world can give you its solid earth and its thousands of opportunities and privileges of growth—as a foundation. But you must be a builder. You must keep in motion.

The force that drove you yesterday gave you the momentum that you start out with today. You must continue to supply the fuel. You can't go very far with merely the momentum of yesterday.

If you fail to keep up your pace—if you fail to keep on moving—if you lag behind—you are hurting yourself, maybe others who depend upon you.

A log splitter got ahead of the race, and the world knows him as Lincoln. A farmer boy kept ahead of his times and became the great Empire Builder—James J. Hill. A storekeeper in New York broke away from precedent and became the great merchant—A. T. Stewart.

Don't make the race entirely physical. Use your head. Discover your best pace and develop it carefully. Keep advancing daily. Increase your strength. Think!

Discard all impediments. Let nothing stop you from going ahead. Forget yesterday's victories by setting new standards for today.

That which applies to you applies to your town. We must get ahead as a community as well as individuals. Let us make this town keep up with the progress of other towns and, if possible, move a little faster ahead. Let us work not only for our individual selves, but for the town in which we live. The opportunity of both the town and ourselves is today. Today's opportunity is always the best opportunity, since it is the one that can be immediately seized.

The committeemen selected at said meeting will meet with the committeemen of the various townships at the court house on Monday, February 9th, 1914, at one o'clock for the purpose of electing precinct committeemen for the various precincts of said township, and three delegates and alternate delegates to the sixth district convention, to be held at Cambridge City, Ind., on Tuesday, the 10th day of February, 1914.

The committeemen selected at said meeting will always be given his personal attention; kept to the present high standard.

Shall Never Change in Quality tention; kept to the present high standard.

Hopes Friends and Neighbors Will Respond to Church Bells Sunday

(By Father M. W. Lyons.)

The church in which the writer is privileged to exercise an humble ministry does not usually lend itself to the constantly recurring suggestions of religious novelty.

This attitude is neither one of spine-tingling indifference to supposed modern advance not yet a church disinclination to participate in laudable activities for the common good.

It is rather the conservative spirit of an ancient institution which has profited by the experience of long advance not yet a church disinclination to participate in laudable activities for the common good. It is rather the conservative spirit of an ancient institution which has profited by the experience of long advance not yet a church disinclination to participate in laudable activities for the common good.

But there are two reasons for the loyalty of the great body of our people. First, we believe that Jesus Christ is really and truly present in the church. We go there to adore Him. This should be sufficient to insure our attendance every Sunday. But then the Church commands us to go and we believe that the Church is His living, divine voice with the power to command even as He, under penalty of damnation.

The Real Presence of Jesus Christ to attract, the authority of a visible Church to command:—this is the explanation why every Sunday is a Church-Going-Sunday for the followers of the ancient Christ.

During the week, the pastors of the different churches will contribute articles to the press setting forth reasons why Rushville, always so staunch a supporter of churches, should join in this nationwide movement.

Indeed I feel that this phase of the subject will be covered so thoroughly and so satisfactorily that perhaps I shall be making a more interesting contribution of the

this a good town or to make you something that you want to be. Rather lay hold of the present and make the future secure.

There's just one word which solves the problem—that's ORGANIZATION.

ALL SET FOR FIGHT.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—Providing Mayor Bell's ban on boxing contests does not extend to this match, Jack Dillon, the best scrapper Indianapolis has ever produced in the lightweight division, will fight Harry Baker of Philadelphia here tonight in the presence of an audience recruited largely from among the delegates to the United Mine Workers convention. Frank Klaus, who was scheduled to meet Baker, has not been able to get in shape for the bout.

Fort Wayne People Give Various Ex-

—Some Kick on Preacher.

ONE IS TOO BUSY COOKING

(By United Press.)

Fort Wayne, Ind., Jan. 30.—"Why don't you go to church?" was asked a dozen residents of Fort Wayne, including a few leading citizens. Some of the reasons given follow:

"I don't need to go to church. I have passed the point at which the church appeals to me I do not believe that church going is necessary after one learns the reasons for attending."

"I am busy cooking Sunday dinner for a family of seven. I do not blame the church but I know that I am not to blame."

"I worked late on Saturday night, and on Sunday morning I am too tired to get up for church. I think the sleep does me more good than the sermon."

"If our preacher were more up-to-date and less of a bore, I certainly should go to church."

"I used to be prominent in a church. Then I got to know the other leaders too well. They were hypocrites. I got out."

"I run a train past Winona Lake nearly every day all summer, and it is my business relations with the hundreds of sunbathed ministers who go to the resort that has driven me away from my church."

"My husband and I are members

with other subjects, all of which she discussed learnedly.

Miss Lowery speaks of Mrs. Conover's well known philanthropies, especially to the younger girls of stage life, mentions the fact that the former Columbus girl is a great social favorite and does not forget to mention that Mrs. Conover drives her own car. After the performance each night Mrs. Conover takes an hour's ride in her car and enjoys the solitude. She designed her own machine the interviewer says, and has paid a large sum for a new wind shield, worked out by those capable and wonderful hands of hers. And when the season is over she goes away to her summer home and enjoys the things nature has provided for her to enjoy.

The National Popular Government League Will Enter State in Support of Referendum.

WILL FURNISH SPEAKERS

Judson King Says Indiana Needs a Constitutional Revision and Believes State Will Get It.

(By United Press.)

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—Held from unexpected sources is coming to the constitutional reform forces in Indiana when the fight opens for adoption—of the referendum (at the November election) for a constitutional convention.

The National Popular Government League, with headquarters in Washington, D. C. will enter the state in support of the referendum. Money and Speakers will be poured into Indiana. Judson King, formerly editor of the Michigan labor unions' official organ and later labor representative in the Ohio constitution fight, is authority for the promised help here.

"The reason why Indiana has not kept pace with the more progressive states in over-throwing political corruption, but still submits to the rule of a boss like Taggart, has been a good deal of a puzzle to friends of progress throughout the nation," said King.

"Down in Washington I have met patriots on the public pay roll from Indiana who tried to lead me to believe that the people of Indiana like it. I don't believe it.

"I believe the reason lies in your lack of political machinery which renders it possible for the people to rule. You are trying to control the nomination and the election of candidates by means of a primary law and other election machinery constructed especially by and for the political machines. Your corrupt practices acts are jokes which no political crook need be afraid; not the man who furnishes him with the money with which to buy elections."

"Indiana is one of the states that is trying to keep up with an express train civilization with an ox cart constitution, and we certainly hope that this state will get a constitutional revision convention at the election this fall."

WHAT IS OLD AGE

Some Younger at 65 Than Others
Are at 40 Years.

Old age is not marked by years, but by the stiffened frame, the hardened tissues and arteries.

So many people whom you meet about the time they reach 40 begin by saying "I can't do this, and I can't do that, because I'm getting old now," they begin to act old, feel old and they are older in appearance than many who are much more advanced in years.

When you begin to feel old, when your energy begins to fail build your self up with our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, Vinol. It is a wonderful blood-maker and strengthener.

H. C. Klyce of Corinth, Miss., says: "I am 75 years old and my blood was very poor. I was in a rundown condition and felt that I must have a tonic. Vinol was recommended and it built up my strength until I felt as strong and well as ever."

Thousands of old people have found in Vinol just the medicine they need to build up the feeble, weakened system and create strength. If it fails, we return your money. F. B. Johnson & Co. Drugists, Rushville, Ind.

"Shall I call a cab, sir?"

"No; the walk will do me good. I'll see you tomorrow."

The walk up town did me good. It was long past midnight when I finally turned in at the Marathon. Higgins, the janitor, was just closing the outer doors, and he joined me in the elevator a moment later.

"There's a gentleman waiting to see you, sir," he said as the car started upward. "Mr. Godfrey, sir. He came in about ten minutes ago. He said you were expecting him, so I let him into your rooms."

I found Godfrey sitting in an easy chair, and he looked up with a smile at my entrance.

"How do you keep it up, Godfrey?" I asked, sitting down opposite him. "I had not seem tired at all."

"I am tired, though," he said, "a little. But I've got a fool brain that won't let my body go to sleep so long as there is work to be done. Besides, I have a thing or two to tell you."

"Go ahead," I said.

"We had a cable from our Paris office just before I left. It seems that M. Theophile D'Aurelle plays the fiddle in the orchestra of the cafe du Paris. He played as usual tonight, so that it is manifestly impossible that he should also be lying in the New York morgue. Moreover, none of his friends, so far as he knows, is in America. No doubt he may be able to identify the photograph of the dead man, and we've already started one on the way, but we can't hear from it for six or eight days. But my guess was right—the fellow's name isn't D'Aurelle."

"You say you have a photograph?"

"Yes; I had some taken of the body this afternoon. Here's one of them. Keep it. You may have a use for it."

I took the card, and, as I gazed at the face depicted upon it, I realized that the distorted countenance I had seen in the afternoon had given me no idea of the man's appearance. Now the eyes were closed and the features composed and peaceful, but even death failed to give them any dignity. It was a weak and dissipated face, the face of a hanger on of cafes, of a loiterer along the boulevards.

"I don't see what business he could have had with Philip Vantine," I said.

"Neither do I; but no doubt we can establish this fellow's identity in time—sooner than we think, perhaps, for most of the morning papers will run his picture, and if he is known here in New York at all, it will be recognized by some one. When we find out who he is, we can probably guess at the nature of his business with Vantine. We can find out who the woman was who called to see Vantine tonight—that is just a case of grilling Rogers; then we can run her down and get her secret out of her. We can find why Rogers is trying to shield her. All that is comparatively simple. But we don't want to know these things. What we want to know is how Philip Vantine and this unknown Frenchman were killed. And that is just the one thing which, I am convinced, neither the man nor the woman nor Rogers nor anybody else we have come across in this case can tell us. There's a personality behind all this that we haven't even suspected yet, and which, I am free to confess, I don't know how to get at."

"What was in the drawer?"

"Ah, if we only knew!"

"Perhaps the woman had nothing to do with it. Vantine himself told me that he was going to make a careful examination of the cabinet. No doubt that is exactly what he was doing when the woman's arrival interrupted him. He might have let her out of the house himself, and then, returning to the cabinet, stumbled upon the secret drawer after she had gone."

"Yes; that is quite possible too. But there are objections, and rather weighty ones. In the first place, if the Frenchman got the drawer open, who closed it?"

"Perhaps it closed itself when he let go of it."

"And closed again after Vantine opened it?"

"Yes."

"It's possible. We must remember that the poisoners of those days were very ingenious. But there is one thing that isn't possible, and that is that a poison which, if it is administered as we think it is, must be a liquid, could remain in that cabinet fresh and ready for use for more than 300 years. It would have dried up centuries ago. Nor would the mechanism stay in order so long. It must be both complicated and delicate. Therefore it would have to be oiled and overhauled from time to time. If it is worked by a spring—and I don't see how else it can be worked—the spring would have to be renewed and wound up."

"Well?" I asked as he paused.

"Well, it is evident that the drawer contains something more recent than the love letters of Louis XIV. It must have been put in working order quite recently. But by whom and for what purpose? That is the mystery we have to solve, and it is a mighty pretty one. And here's another objection," he added. "That Frenchman knew about the secret drawer, because, according to our theory, he opened it and got killed. Why didn't he also know about the poison?"

"That was an objection, truly, and the more I thought of it the more serious it seemed.

"It may be," said Godfrey at last, "that D'Aurelle was going it alone—that he had broken with the gang"—

"The gang?"

"Of course there is a gang. This thing has taken careful planning and concerted effort. And the leader of the gang is a genius! I wonder if you understand how great a genius? Think! He knows the secret of the drawer of Mme. de Montespan's cabinet. But, above all, he knows the secret of the poison—the poison of the Medicis! Do you know what that means, Lester?"

"What does it mean?" I asked, for Godfrey was getting ahead of me.

"It means he is a great criminal—a really great criminal—one of the elect from whom crime has no secrets. Observe. He alone knows the secret of the poison. One of his men breaks away from him and pays for his mutiny with his life. He is the brain; the others are merely the instruments!"

"Then you don't believe it was by accident that cabinet was sent to Vantine?"

"By accident? Not for an instant! It was part of a plot—and a splendid plot!"

"Can you explain that to me too?" I queried a little ironically.

He smiled good naturedly at my tone.

"Of course this is all mere romancing," he admitted. "I am the first to acknowledge that. I was merely following out our theory to what seemed its logical conclusion. But perhaps we are on the wrong track altogether. Perhaps D'Aurelle, or whatever his name is, just blundered in like a moth into a candle flame. As for the plot—well, I can only guess at it. But suppose you and I had pulled off some big robbery!"

"It stopped suddenly and his face went white and then red. "Lester!" he cried, his voice shrill with fear. "The cabinet—it isn't guarded!"

"Yes, it is," I said. "At least I thought of that!"

And I told him of the precautions I had taken to keep it safe. He heard me out with a sigh of relief.

"I think the cabinet is safe—for tonight. And before another night, Lester, we will have a look for ourselves."

"A look?"

"Yes; for the secret drawer!"

"D'Aurelle and Vantine found it," I muttered thickly.

"It won't kill us. We will go about it armored. Lester. That poisoned fang may strike, but I'll be ready. Lester. There will be no danger. Come, man! Why, it's the chance of a lifetime—to match ourselves against the greatest criminal of modern times!"

His shrill laugh told how excited he was.

"And do you know what we shall find in that drawer, Lester? But no—it is only a guess—the wildest sort of a guess—but if it is right—if it is right! Anyway, you will help me, Lester? You will come?"

There was a wizardry in his manner not to be resisted.

"Yes," I answered, with a quick intake of the breath; "I'll come!"

"I knew you would! Tomorrow night, then—I'll call for you here at 7 o'clock. We will have dinner together—and then, hey for the great secret!"

The door closed behind him, and his footsteps died away down the hall. I looked at my watch—it was nearly 2 o'clock.

Dizzily I went to bed. But my sleep was broken by a fearful dream—a dream of a serpent, with blazing eyes and dripping fangs, poised to strike!

My first thought when I awoke next morning was for Parks. It was with a lively sense of relief that I heard Parks' voice answer my call on the phone.

"This is Mr. Lester," I said. "Is everything all right?"

"Everything serene, sir," he answered. "It would take a mighty smooth burglar to get in here now, sir."

"How is that?" I asked.

"Reporters are camped all around the house, sir. They seem to think somebody else will be killed here today."

To be continued.

Peculiar After Effects of Grip This Year

LEAVES KIDNEYS IN WEAKENED CONDITION

Doctors in all parts of the country have been kept busy with the epidemic of grip which has visited so many homes. The symptoms of grip this year are often very distressing and leave the system in a run down condition, particularly the kidneys which seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney trouble. Druggists report a large sale on Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which so many people say soon heals and strengthens the kidneys after an attack of grip. Swamp-Root is a great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who try it. Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., offer to send a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root, on receipt of ten cents, to every sufferer who requests it. A trial will convince any one who may be in need of it.

Regular size bottles 50cts. and $1.00. For sale at all druggists. Be sure to mention this paper.

VICE SEGREGATION FAILS

Chicago Detective Says it Never Can Succeed.

(By United Press)

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 30.—"Segregation of vice is and always will be a failure," said Owen Wiard, the Chicago detective, in an address at the Oliver theater here.

"Segregation can never succeed because it is wrong," he said. "It is a case of going into partnership with the devil."

Wiard cited the Indiana law which enables officials to reach owners of property rented for immoral purposes.

"They collect excessive rents from these premises and a few injunctions and a few arrests of property owners, will soon wipe out your vice districts," the detective said. Mayor Keller, the members of the board of safety and the board of public works heard Wiard.

ECHOES FROM CIRCLEVILLE

Circleville Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people in our town who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Circleville resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

Hiram Whalen, R. R. No. 1, Circleville, Rushville, Ind., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a fine remedy and we always keep them in the house. I had pains in my back that made it hard for me to straighten after stooping and my kidneys caused me a great deal of trouble. Doan's Kidney Pills stopped the pains and aches and regulated the kidney action."

IS SHARP ENOUGH TO BE NOTICEABLE

Change Comes in Temperature, as Was Predicted, But Mercury Didn't Get Below Freezing.

A RAINBOW THIS MORNING

The winter's blasts did not blow in such large quantities as was expected last night and today, but still the change was sharp enough to be rather noticeable following the spring weather that has prevailed for last several days. The temperature dropped thirty degrees last night and the same kind of weather is predicted for tomorrow.

An unusual phenomena was noted this morning. A beautiful rainbow appeared in the western skies about seven o'clock. Such a thing is very uncommon at this season. The sun was just rising above a bank of clouds and although only a slight mist fell, the rainbow shown forth in all the lustre one ever appears in the summer time.

TOM TAGGART SAYS HE'S NOT RUNNING

Indiana Democratic Boss Makes Definite Statement That He Wants No Political Office.

HE DECLARIES FOR SHIVELY

(Special to the Daily Republican) Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—Before his departure for French Lick last evening National Committeeman Thomas Taggart not only exploded the recent boom that had been started for him as a candidate for the United States senate, but declared himself in favor of Senator B. F. Shively, who is candidate for re-election.

"I appreciate the honor of having my name mentioned as a probable candidate for United States senator from the great state of Indiana, but I shall not be a candidate," said Mr. Taggart. "Since I left the office of mayor of Indianapolis I never have been a candidate for any public office. I have no aspirations at the present time to become a candidate for the office of United States senator—or for any other political office."

"I can see no reason why Senator Shively should not be a candidate for re-election nor why he should not be re-elected in order that he may help carry out the program of progressive legislation which President Wilson has in mind."

ACCUSED OF KILLING GIRL

Samuel L. Steffy on Trial in Starke Circuit Court.

Laporte, Ind., Jan. 30.—With Henry A. Steis of South Bend sitting as special judge in the Starke county circuit court, the trial of Samuel L. Steffy, who is alleged to have killed Pearl May Henning, living near the town of Pulaski, was begun. Steffy was recovering from an illness at the Henning home, and while alone with Miss Henning one afternoon a gun which was in the room was discharged, the young woman being instantly killed. Steffy declared the tragedy was an accident and was not arrested for six months, when, after the body of the young woman had been exhumed, a grand jury indictment charging murder in the first degree was returned. Steffy has a wife and five children in Arkansas.

Donald Nestor Convicted.

Richmond, Ind., Jan. 30.—A verdict of manslaughter, carrying with it a sentence of from two to twenty-one years imprisonment, was returned by the jury in the case of Donald Nestor, who stabbed Richard Cook to death with a pair of scissors. Nestor, a well-known young man, stabbed Cook last October, after the two had engaged in a quarrel on Main street. Cook did not die until several weeks after the assault.

Imbecile Burned to Death.

Bremen, Ind., Jan. 30.—An imbecile child was burned to death and another was so severely burned that death is expected, in a fire that destroyed the upper story of the home of Edward Goetz. The fire was first seen when the entire upper part of the house was burning, making rescue of the children impossible.

No married man in Vienna is allowed to go up in a balloon without the formal consent of his wife and children.

EVERYTHING PAID IN; NOTHING OUT

Carthage People Who Had Experience With a Burial Association Finally Come to Grief.

CONTRACTS ARE CANCELLED

Carthage had an experience with burial association which an Indiana legislature made illegal. The association was started in an adjoining county about ten years ago and several people in the vicinity of Carthage entered into it with the belief that they would in this way provide a decent burial for themselves. The law compelled such associations to transfer their contracts with an insurance company, but the legislators, realizing such organizations should be wiped out, added a "joker" which gave the companies the right to cancel the obligation at the end of five years.

The company has just served notice on the policy holders that the contract is cancelled. The innocent contract holder has been paying in his money, but now he will get nothing in return.

CALLS GOMPERS BOOZE FIGHTER

Delegate Duncan McDonald of Illinois Throws Miners' Convention Into Uproar Today.

"LIAR, SLANDERED," REPLY

Duncan Charges That A. F. of L. Head Was Howling at Recent Convention in Seattle.

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—"Booze fighter" was the charge Duncan McDonald hurled at Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, at the convention of Union Mine Workers of America here today, "It's a lie," roared Gompers, rising and shaking his fist at the Illinois delegate.

That Gompers was howling drunk at the recent convention of the A. F. of L. was the charge McDonald made.

"Liar, slanderer," Gompers shouted, pounding a table.

The convention was in an uproar. A resolution committee meeting, headed by Gompers, was so noisy at a Seattle hotel, McDonald declared, that he and his wife in the room next to the committee could not sleep. After futile complaint to the labor leaders and the hotel management, McDonald said he opened the door of the room to administer a rebuke and found "a bunch sitting around a table headed by Gompers howling drunk."

McDonald said the A. F. of L. was in the control of a machine and that Socialists are barred from holding effective offices in the organization.

The damage to the Windsor hotel from the recent fire has been repaired. The 1903, which suffered the most, has been replaced and the work on the interior has started.

CAN'T GIVE UP GAMBLING

South Bend Sports Use Lead Pencils Instead of Dice.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 30.—The enforcement of liquor and gambling laws in South Bend during the last month has led saloon men and gamblers to form numerous clubs, which the police believe are for the distinct purpose of providing a means for the sale of liquor after hours and also to make it possible to pull off poker games. A vigorous investigation is being made and it's probable that all so-called clubs will be raided.

Since slot machines, dice and card games and all other games of chance have been placed under the ban it has been learned that in several saloons and cigar stores the planes of lead pencils have been numbered and these rolled in lieu of dice. In many instances men are also carrying dice in their pockets for use when they enter barrooms and cigar stands.

TESTIMONIALS

Gaar Nurseries, Cambridge City Rushville, Ind. Gentlemen—I am glad to report that the trees I purchased from you last spring are doing fine, in fact, all the trees I have bought of you in former years have been so satisfactory and your treatment to me in replacing trees has been so fair and generous that whenever I need more trees I will surely purchase them from you Yours truly DR. J. T. PAXTON.

Gaar Nurseries, Cambridge City Lewisville, Ind. The trees which I bought of you proved to be all that you claimed for them. L. F. SYMONS, Pres. First Nat. Bank.

Gaar Nurseries, Cambridge City Newcastle, Ind. After thoroughly inspecting the trees in your nurseries I decided that I would be unable to get better trees anywhere, and when the one thousand trees which I bought of you arrived at the fruit farm we were well pleased with them as they came in fine condition. They looked even better after they were set out. You should have no trouble in selling all the trees you can raise. Respectfully ED. JACKSON, Judge Henry Co. Circuit Court.
